

Blizzard Entertainment Internships

Blizzard Entertainment is accepting applications for Summer 2013 Internships! We have opportunities throughout the company, including game development, creative functions, business operations, and quality assurance.

*Eligibility: Applicants must be currently enrolled in a university or college and will be returning to school in the fall of 2013 after the internship (graduating seniors are not eligible, but are more than welcome to apply to fulltime opportunities with the company)

*Length of Internship: 12-week paid summer internships

*Location: Blizzard Entertainment headquarters facility in Irvine, CA

*Deadline to Apply: Applications must be submitted no later than January 31, 2013

Please view our Internships Directory at <http://us.blizzard.com/en-us/company/careers/internships.html>, and apply to any internship(s) that interest you.

We look for individuals who are, first and foremost, passionate about game development and the industry. We want to see examples of how students have married their educational background and resources with that passion by creating game content or participating in their given field. Examples of this could be personal projects, involvement in group projects, participation in the modding community, or any other creative way to demonstrate the ability to produce game content.

To apply online, please view our Internships Directory at <http://us.blizzard.com/en-us/company/careers/internships.html>, and submit your application online.